HONG KONG SANATORIUM HAS MEMORABLE DAY

Warm Tribute Paid To Hospital Matron

MRS. NORTH PRESENTS AWARDS TO GRADUATE NURSES

Yesterday afternoon was a memorable day in the annals of the Hong Kong Sanatorium and Hospital (Training School for Nurses and Midwives) when the record number of 16 graduates received their certificates from Mrs. North, the wife of the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North (Colonial Secretary) in the presence of a large gathering on the roof garden of the Sanatorium. Also, it was the first occasion in which the Institution has had graduates in midwifery.

In the course of his speech, the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Hong Kong Sanatorium and Hospital, expressed thanks to the doctors for their untiring interest in conducting lectures, and paid warm tribute to the Matron, Miss Noreen Lum, who was largely responsible for making the Training School what it was to-day by her wonderful inspiration, fine example and self devotion.

Prior to the presentation of certificates, tea was served following which the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan addressed the gathering.

At the conclusion of the speech, the graduates took the "Forensic Nightingale Pledge," led by Sister Lum So Hean, N.A.C.

DR. LI'S SPEECH

In his speech, the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan said:—

We are highly honoured to have the presence of the Hon. and Mrs. R. A. C. North. One of Mrs. North's outstanding qualities is her keen interest in the charitable and educational work in the Colony, and above all, she is a great friend of the Chinese people.

At this function to-day we have a record number of 16 graduates, one of whom graduates in nursing alone, eight graduate in midwifery alone (the latter having received their certificates in nursing previously) and seven are taking their certificates both in nursing and midwifery.

WHAT'S ON IN LONDON? HINTS FOR THOSE GOING "ON LEAVE"

"CARELESS RAPTURE" has been running for nearly a year at Drury Lane, and is considered to be the loveliest and most thrilling spectacle ever produced there. It stars Dorothy Dickson, Ivor Novello and Zena Dare and is still playing to packed houses every night and running two matinees per week. Theme-song "Music In May" has been heard on the radio in Hong Kong.

THE EDGAR WALLACE MYSTERY THRILLER "THE FROG" HAS BEEN ON FOR MORE THAN A YEAR AND IS STILL GOING STRONG AT PRINCES THEATRE OFF SHAFTSBURY AVENUE. THE BOMB EXPLOSION IN A POLICE STATION THAT ALMOST WRECKED THE THEATRE NIGHTLY, IS A GREAT FEATURE.

AN AMUSING FARCE "FRENCH WITHOUT TEARS" AT THE CRITERION THEATRE (PICCADILLY CIRCUS) HAS RUN FOR ABOUT THREE MONTHS ALREADY.

"Over She Goes" with Stanley Lupino in the lead, is a gay musical comedy with a lot of laughs; has run since last autumn. As may be guessed it has a sporting plot.

"Whiteoaks" starring Nancy Price is a clever and interesting character study. It has run for more than a year and has just moved from The Little Theatre into the bigger Playhouse where they need to give three matinees per week.

Last, but not least is the new mystery play "London After Dark" packed with thrills and laughter and with a marvellous part for popular Marion Lorne. To be seen at the Apollo Theatre.

The Philippines definitely will be granted complete independence on July 4, 1939, instead of 1945, Assemblyman Felipe Buencamino, who recently returned from Washington and London where he represented the Philippines at the world sugar conference, informed his Assembly colleagues to-night. Peiping, June 11.

Chinese reports from Changpei estimate that more than a hundred were killed and several hundred arrested in the popular uprisings against the Manchukuo control in North China this month, the uprisings being vigorously suppressed.

Mr. L. H. C. Calthrop As Complainant

Mr. L. H. C. Calthrop, Deputy Superintendent of Police, Kowloon, appeared as complainant at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning when J. D. Bickstaff of the P. W. D. was summoned for driving a car at the excessive speed of 30 to 35 miles per hour at the Nathan Road controlled area on May 25.

In evidence Mr. Calthrop said that as he was driving along Nathan Road near Austin Road on the day in question, car No. 2808, driven by defendant sped past him at what he estimated was about 40 miles per hour. He followed the car, wanting to stop it, and was keeping a distance of about 80 yard behind defendant. Finally they reached the controlled area.

PICKET LINES BROKEN

Police Battle With Men And Women

Manroe, Mich., June 11.
Tear gas bombs, clubs and stones were used by both sides when two hundred police broke the picket lines outside the Newtown plant of the Republic Steel Corporation, allowing eight hundred non-strikers to enter.

Fighting with a hundred and twenty men and women pickets lasted fifteen minutes, followed by two hours of fruitless negotiations between Governor Murphy, police officials and picket leaders.

The number injured was small as entry to the factory was easier. It is expected that a decision will be reached to reopen the works to a majority ballot of the employees.—Reuter.

Dragon Boat Race To-morrow

To-morrow, the fifth day of the fifth moon, is the day the traditional observance of the Chinese Dragon Festival.

Hong Kong Chinese will celebrate the time-honoured festival by boat races at Aberdeen, Shaukiwan and East Point, and aquatic sports by the different local swimming clubs.

It is understood that organized dragon boat races have been arranged by the Chung Sing and Chinese Civil Servants' Bathing Clubs to take place at Kennedy Town and North Point to-morrow afternoon.

The races will take place in front of their respective clubs.—Chinese Evening Press.

SOME IMPRESSIONS

Dragon-Boats Practice Yesterday

Bong! bong! bong! bong!
A slim looking craft with a bow-sprit shaped into the head of the dragon manned by a crew of three dozen sturdy men, of the native water craft in harbour, resplendent with many hued banners of cloth on bamboo poles and dwarfed by a white pennant and red characters denoting the representation of the crew, skims over the surface of the water.

The Dragon-boat is fast approaching!

Blades dip into the water with sport, swift jabs in time with the beating of a drum, and ere the crew is a half mile off the shore, crowds of girls, boys, women and men rush to the waterfront for their yearly glimpse of the boat.

For the Dragon-boat festivities are here once again!

The untiring beat of the drum, struck alternately with both hands by a man standing on the bow facing the crew, has not only beat union of effort in the rowers, but has struck excitement into the heart of the "land-lubbers," who lose little time to gather on the fore-shore.

FULL COURT OF APPEAL

Judgment Upheld

At the Full Court of Appeal yesterday morning, an appeal to uphold a judgment, given in the absence of one of the parties who failed to appear to contest the case, and in which ninety per cent. of the action was afterwards admitted to be unmaintainable, was dismissed with costs by Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell and Mr. Justice J. A. Fraser.

Appellant was Mrs. Tso Yuk-tong, and the appeal arose out of an action brought by her against the Luk Hoi Tung Co. Ltd., claiming the return of a debenture deed valued $3,139.10, plus $321.12 interest. She obtained judgment on account of the non-appearance of the respondent, but subsequently the latter succeeded in having the judgment set aside.

The Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva, appeared for appellant, and Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K.C., represented respondent on the instructions of Mr. M. M. Watson, the appeal having been heard on May 31.

Mr. D'Almada was instructed at the end of the hearing to ask for a written judgment which their Lordships gave yesterday.

THE JUDGMENT

Mr. Justice Lindsell said: This is an appeal against an order of Sir Atholl MacGregor, Chief Justice made in Chambers on April 15, 1937, setting aside the judgment obtained by default on March 13, 1936, by the plaintiff in Original Jurisdiction (the present Appellant) against the Luk Hoi Tung Company Limited (the present Respondent), and giving the said respondent unconditional leave to defend.

The only facts in the case which appear to us to be material are as follows:

1.—The appellant was in March, 1936, the holder of a debenture bond then of the face value of $3,139.10 issued by the respondent Company on May 17, 1934.

2.—Having received no reply to two letters of demand sent by her solicitor in the latter part of February, the appellant on March 3, 1936, issued her writ against the respondent claiming the sum of $3,478.83, being as to the sum of $3,139.10 balance of principal due and owing under the said debenture bond and repayable on demand and as to the sum of $339.73 arrears of interest payable thereunder.

3.—The respondent entered no appearance to the writ within the statutory eight days and on March 13, 1936, the appellant obtained formal leave in default of such appearance to proceed to judgment and execution and on the same day judgment was duly entered for her.

4.—The Secretary of the respondent Company was aware of the signing of the judgment shortly after March 18, 1936.

5.—On February 9, 1937, the appellant instituted bankruptcy proceedings against the respondent Company by filing a winding-up petition of which she had four months previously given notice to the respondent Company.

6.—On February 18, 1937, the respondent Company applied by summons under Section 22 of the Hong Kong Code of Civil Procedure to have the judgment filed on March 13, 1936, set aside and for leave to defend the action.

7.—This summons was heard and determined in Chambers on April 15, 1937, by the Chief Justice who then made the order in favour of the respondent Company now appealed against.

8.—The order appealed against was based on the ground that once it is admitted that an action was not ab initio maintainable, judgment obtained by default thereunder must be bad and should be set aside ex mero motu by the Court.

DOUBTFUL RELEVANCY

In these circumstances it seems to us that the arguments of appellant's Counsel are of doubtful relevancy when he says that the Court ought not, either under Section 22 of the Code or under the rule in Muir v. Jenks (1913 2 K.B. 412), to exercise its discretion in favour of a judgment debtor and set aside a judgment without consideration of all the surrounding circumstances, and in particular of the debtor's own conduct, and that in this connection distinction must be drawn between regular and irregular judgments.

Furthermore, even if these arguments were material, they are not supported by the latest and most cogent authority. In Evans v. Bartlam (83 T. L. R. 839) in which the question of the proper exercise

FIRE AT MOTOR SHOWROOM

A fire broke out in the garage of the Far East Motors Limited in Kowloon, yesterday morning at 11.20 a.m. The total value of the damage done was estimated at $500. One truck and a car, which were brand new, were partially damaged.

The fire was extinguished by apprentices of the garage at 11.33 a.m. before the arrival of the Fire Brigade.

The truck and the car were insured.

Of the discretion to set aside was fully considered by the House of Lords, it was held that the discretionary power of a judge in Chambers, both under Order XIII Rule 10 and under Order XXVII Rule 15 is unconditional and that "unless and until a Court has pronounced a judgment on the merits or by consent, it has the power to revoke the expression of its coercive power where that has only been obtained by a failure to follow any of the rules of procedure."

It is true that Lord Wright suggests that "laches" on the part of a judgment debtor may disentitle him from getting a judgment against him set aside, but "the primary consideration is whether he has merits to which the Court should pay heed."

EXERCISE OF DISCRETION

Lord Atkin also gives his opinion of the rules that the Courts have laid down for themselves to guide them in the normal exercise of their discretion. He agrees that where the judgment was obtained regularly (as here) the debtor applicant must produce to the Court evidence that he has a prima facie defence, but he doubts the existence of the other rule, (which was relied on by the respondent in that case) "in this," that the applicant must satisfy the Court that there is a reasonable explanation why judgment was allowed to go by default. "In any case," he continues, "in my opinion the Court does not, and I doubt whether it can, lay down rigid rules which deprive it of jurisdiction. Even the first rule as to affidavit of merits could in no doubt rare, but appropriate cases, be departed from."

Here the order appealed against was not based on any statutory or judicial rule but upon the inherent jurisdiction of the Court to intervene to correct or prevent any abuse of its process. The order obviously cannot have been based on the proviso at the end of Section 22 of the Code because that proviso, unlike Order XIII Rule 10 and Order XXVII Rule 15, requires every application to set aside to be supported by satisfactory affidavit accounting for the defendant's non-appearance and disclosing a defence on the merits, and it is common ground that the Order was made without consideration of the affidavits filed herein, both those in support of and those resisting the application.

CANNOT BE DOUBTED

The existence and potency of this inherent jurisdiction cannot be doubted.

It is submitted, however, for the appellant that the exercise of this jurisdiction is no less discretionary than the statutory power to set aside, and that the discretion is subject to the same clear and well defined limitations which require inter alia that one who asks for its exercise in his favour must first show that his own conduct in the matter has been blameless.

Some support for this view is to be found in cases cited on pages 430 and 431 of the Annual Practice, though it may be doubted whether in view of the decision in Evans v. Bartlam (supra) many of those cases do not go a great deal too far. In any case we are unable to accept that view as applicable to the present case. Here the judgment has been obtained in default in an action which it is now admitted was and is, as to over 90 per cent. of the sum claimed, unmaintainable. To sign judgment even though in the honest belief that the claim was maintainable and subsequently to rely on the non-payment of the judgment debt as a ground for instituting bankruptcy proceedings was in our view such an abuse of the process of the Court that, so soon as the Court had notice thereof, it was entitled ex mero motu to correct that abuse by setting aside the judgment.

For these reasons we hold that this appeal fails and must be dismissed with costs. It follows that the appeal in Companies Winding-Up No. 1 of 1937, Appeal No. 8 of 1937 also fails and must be dismissed with costs.

FALSE REPORT TO POLICE

Countryman In Trouble

Yuen Wan Ki, a native of Mul Wal village, again appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday when the case in which he is charged with making a false report to the Police, of having been robbed of some money which was given to him by his master to purchase old flour bags, was continued.

At the first hearing the defendant admitted the charge, but denied it at the second hearing, while yesterday the defendant again admitted the charge.

Inspector Darkin who prosecuted, stated that he had sufficient evidence that the report which was made by the defendant was entirely incorrect. As the defendant again admitted the charge it was unnecessary for him to call his witnesses.

Outlining the case, Inspector Darkin said that the defendant came to the Colony from the country and went to a shop at No. 215 Queen's Road West, where a clansman ran his business and stayed there. On May 23 the master of the shop gave the defendant the sum of $20 to go out and buy empty flour bags. The defendant left the shop at 10 a.m. and returned with the flour bags and gave his master the sum of $15 representing the change.

DEFENDANT DISAPPEARS

On the following morning the defendant again asked his master to give him some money to go and buy flour bags, and he was given another $20 and that was the last the master saw of the defendant, until he was brought back by the police.

On May 27, the defendant went to the Wing Tai tea house at 33 Queen's Road East and purchased 14 flour bags for which he paid $15.4. Defendant then returned to the tea shop and informed the master that he had lost $10, and asked him whether he had seen it or not. The master of the shop said "No" and helped the defendant to look for it among the flour bags.

A FALSE ALARM

At 11.30 a.m. the same day a travelling trader by the name of Chun Fal saw the defendant at Jardine's Bazaar, blowing a police whistle. Eventually a policeman came on the scene and took the defendant to the station. At the station the defendant made a statement that he had been robbed of his money.

The defendant was then kept in the station as his statement sounded suspicious, and enquiries were made, and his report was found to be entirely incorrect. The defendant was then charged with making a false report to the police.

POLICE TROUBLED

Inspector Darkin asked His Worship to take a serious view of the matter as on the day in question the defendant caused the police a lot of trouble as they had the whole of the emergency squad on the job to try and locate the robbers. His Worship then imposed a fine of $100 or two months' hard labour, and at the expiration of his sentence he was to be sent back to the country.

PRISON COMPOSITOR FINED

Appearing before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday, Leung Ying, a 44 year old compositor at Stanley Prison, was charged with carrying three ounces of tobacco into the prison without permission. The complainant was Chief Warden C. W. Fitzgerald.

Defendant stated that the tobacco was for his own use and he did not take it any further than the main gate. Sub-Inspector Saby, who prosecuted stated that at about 8 a.m. the day before yesterday the defendant was inside the front gate of the prison on his way to be paraded with other compositors, when Principle Printing Officer Didsbury saw the defendant take out a packet of tobacco from his jacket and throw it on the ground and attempted to kick it out of sight. His Worship then imposed a fine of $50 or in default one month's hard labour.

RELIGION: PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL

XVII: Congregationalism In Scotland

(BY SCRUTATOR).

The Free Church principle of certain sections of Scottish Presbyterianism has its logical issue in Congregationalism. Put a New Testament into the hands of a man of unbiased mind and he will immediately seek to found a society like that which Jesus founded on the shores of Galilee. Such a man was John Glas who ministered to a small congregation near Dundee. He found no warrant in the Gospels or the Epistles for the foundation of a national church, and with a pure desire for a truly Christian foundation he formed a little church. His first venture was followed by others, and several communities grew up organised on similar lines. These were called the Glasite Churches. They maintained the necessity for the literal interpretation of the Holy Scriptures and they acted accordingly; they were the first Congregationalists in Scotland.

Apart from the followers of a man called Sandeman, the next development of Congregationalism in Scotland came through the work of the brothers Haldane. But their movement suffered from the looseness of its organisation, but it planted its seeds well in the north of Scotland, where it has grown and blossomed.

THE NEXT DEVELOPMENT

The narrowness and exclusiveness of Scottish theology conditioned the next development of Congregationalism. Within a very short time of each other Campbell of Rhu, MacLean of Dregthorn, and James Morrison were excommunicated by the Church of Scotland and the Original Succession Church, each of them refusing to preach the doctrine of election to salvation and the doctrine of the universality of the atonement. Thus there began a break from Scottish Calvinism which had originated in the sixteenth century when Knox returned from Geneva and was invited by the Scottish nobles to assist in their rebellion against their Roman Catholic monarchs. Morrison established the Evangelical Union which in the year 1897 was united with the Congregational Union of Scotland.

Congregationalism in Scotland has never reached the proportions of Non-conformity in England, but to maintain, as some historians do, that it is not native to the Scottish temperament, is not only to make a psychological error, but it is to place that error of understanding before the work of the Holy Spirit as an influence in men's lives. Some form of congregationalism is inevitable where men are seeking to be truly disinterested in their service of God and His Kingdom, when obedience to His will and Christ's teaching has become the raison d'être of the individual life.

INFLUENCE OF JESUS

There is no question as to what was the unifying and empowering influence which inspired the first Church of Christ. It was the presence and the influence of Jesus Himself, living among his disciples. And what there was existing among them in those little meetings in the Upper Room in Jerusalem we have striven to show. The secret of their strength of spiritual power, the power which was the starting-point of the greatest religious movement which history has ever seen, was the Presence and power of God mediated through Jesus Christ.

It is vain to attempt to define what that Presence means. Jesus himself never tried to define it, yet it is comparatively simple to understand what he meant by it. It is not mysterious except in its simplicity; it is appreciable by the childlike heart and mind, and always where two or three people are gathered together in Christ's name to do His will. It is there to be their blessing and their fulfilment. It is, in short, the reality of personal religion.

RADIANT LIVING

Theosophical Society Meeting

"The sub-conscious mind records indelibly all the experiences of the individual; in addition it is Dr. Herbert Sutcliffe's theory that the sub-conscious mind is a reservoir of spiritual power; therefore the secret of Radiant Living is the training of the conscious mind to express as much of the sub-conscious as possible through mental science." This is essence was what Mr. D. O. de Silva said last Thursday in a talk on Dr. Herbert Sutcliffe's practical psychology to the local Theosophical Society.

ENTERTAINING DR. SUTCLIFFE

Dr. Sutcliffe in his early days was an Australian civil servant who as a hobby used to give lectures on psychology. His lectures became so individual and spread so much contentment that he was at last persuaded to give up his government position and go on a world crusade for the spreading of his particular message. He evolved a philosophical mental science which he termed Radiant Living and was busy founding centres and schools wherever he travelled. Quite often those individuals who carried on his work when he left were those who had been cured of unbalanced personality, by his methods.

When Mr. de Silva heard that the Doctor was coming to Hong Kong he immediately got into touch with him, introducing himself as a student of psychology.

OUTLINE OF COURSE

Mr. de Silva then went on to give a very short outline of Dr. Sutcliffe's course. Some of the points were, Memory-training, Concentration, Meditation, and finally Good Habits. The three public lectures that were given were merely introductory to the course of ten talks that followed. Mr. de Silva concluded with the hope that another opportunity would soon occur, so that he might in some detail describe the method.

There was not much time for discussion, but admiration was expressed for Dr. Sutcliffe in having formulated for himself a teaching that covered much of the ground of Theosophy, and was in addition especially adapted to his type of audience. It was men like him who bring the world to a higher level.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST.

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist to-morrow, June 13, will be "God the Preserver of Man."

The Golden Text will be: "In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God." (Psalms 62:7).

Among others the following citations from the Bible will be read: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. For who is God save the Lord or who is a rock save our God? It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect. Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation; and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great. Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the heathen, and sing praises unto thy name." (Psalms 18:2, 30-32, 35, 49).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Even though you aver that the material senses are indispensable to man's existence or entity, you must change the human concept of life, and must at length know yourself spiritually and scientifically. The evidence of the existence of Spirit, Soul, is palpable only to spiritual sense, and is not apparent to the material senses, which cognize only that which is the opposite of Spirit. True Christianity is to be honored wherever found, but when shall we arrive at the goal which that word implies? From Puritan parents, the discoverer of Christian Science early received her religious education. The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible: for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright, and Godlike. The sinless joy,—the perfect harmony and immortality of Life, possessing unlimited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain,—constitutes the only veritable, indestructible man, whose being is spiritual. This state of existence is scientific and intact,—a perfection discernible only by those who have the final understanding of Christ in divine Science." (Pages 259, 260 & 76).

CHURCH IN KOWLOON CITY. During the past week steps were taken towards the completion of another new church in the Hong Kong Vicariate. This was in Kowloon City, where the Bishop laid the foundation stone of a new church building in the heart of the most populous part of the district. The new building will comprise church, school and residence. The church will replace the small church of St. Francis which occupied a space required for a road in the new planning of the local area, and the new church will be able to accommodate a much larger congregation. Ingenious use of space by the architect, Mr. Anthony Basto, will make good provision for both church and school. The building is well advanced and will be ready for use at the end of summer.

With the inauguration of the new Carmelite Convent at Stanley and the new building for the Precious Blood Hospital at Shamshu-po, the last few weeks have seen considerable additions to local Catholic institutions.

Look at Your Skin

Skin Specialists declare that 80 out of every 100 women suffer from skin outbreaks, spots, pimples, blotches, and 'muddy' complexions UNNECESSARILY!

Ugly complexion faults are woman's most common enemy. Few escape. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them. Whilst others, due to consistent wrong treatment, cause the skin to become highly sensitive; coarse and blemished.

To make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion fresh and smooth, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try Cuticura to-day. See how soon your skin improves, your complexion becomes smoother, more attractive than ever before.

Cuticura

For Clear Healthy Skin

Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Ask for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And for powder use Cuticura Talcum—exceptionally fine and pure, exquisitely perfumed.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

New Church On Lantau Island

On Lantau Island, which we are told, was very nearly chosen for development instead of Hong Kong, a new Catholic church is to be blessed to-morrow morning. The church is in the village of Tai O, on the far extremity of the island. There is a large Catholic community in this part of the island, and there has been a resident priest for several years. The priest at present in charge is Rev. O. Liberatore, who was attached to the Cathedral for several years, and is well-known in Hong Kong. The name of Liberatore, by the way, is familiar to many students of Catholic philosophy, for a Jesuit of the same name, who was a grand-uncle of the priest at Tai O, was the author of a manual of philosophy which is in use in many seminaries.

For the convenience of those who wish to take part in the inauguration of the new church, a special ferry has been chartered. The journey which takes about two hours will begin at 6.20 when the ferry leaves the Police pier, Kowloon. he is equally well known as a writer both on art and on economics. As a designer of lettering he has probably few equals in the world to-day, and the types that he has designed have made the reputation of several presses. When the new postage stamps of King Edward VIII appeared in England they were received with ridicule on the one hand and extravagant praise on the other. The most tempered criticism was that of Eric Gill who dealt carefully with each detail and approved of all, with the exception of two of the letters. The result was that he was commissioned to act with Mr. Edward Dulac in designing the King George VI stamps. Opinion will be equally divided on the new design, and, as people had got over the initial feeling of strangeness about the Edward VIII stamps, it is probable that most people will prefer them—in spite of the incredibly bad letter S.

AN ENGLISH FRIEND OF THE POPE

When Lord Conway of Allington died a few months ago, there was so much to say about his amazing career that few remembered that he was one of the few Englishmen who was almost a lifelong friend of His Holiness Pope Pius XI. They had common interests in mountaineering, scholarship and the diurnal art. They were of the same age, and it was as young mountaineering enthusiasts that they first met. Later they came into contact in Milan, where the young Dr. Ratti was working among the Lombard paintings and drawings of the Museum attached to the Ambrosian Library, when Martin Conway went from Cambridge to study art in Italy.

A few years later Mr. Ratti reorganised the whole art gallery at the Ambrosian and was recognised as one of the greatest living authorities on Luini and Leonardo da Vinci. Conway was trustee of several of the great London galleries and professor of art, as well as an archaeologist, M.P., and prolific writer, and he was always a welcome visitor at the Ambrosian and later at the Vatican Galleries when Mr. Ratti had left Milan and become Pope.

MAN LOSES WAGER

Drowns In Reservoir

Over 100,000 cubic feet of water had to be removed from the reservoir which supplies the town of Bletchley with 20,000 inhabitants with household water, because of the foolhardiness of holiday makers.

Drinking too freely in the prevailing torrid heat, a man had made a bet that he could swim over the reservoir, where the water was 25 metres deep. The feat proved beyond the boaster's power and he drowned before the eyes of horror-stricken spectators.

As the water would not be fit for use if the body were not instantly removed, a diver was brought by plane from Gdynia to remove the body. But one attempt after the other was made without success, until finally it was decided to let out enough water to enable the diver to see the body at the bottom. After over 100,000 cubic metres had escaped the body was recovered.

DECREE AGAINST A GENERAL'S SON

Hotel Maid Gives Evidence

Mrs. Bridget Elvira Smith-Dorrien, of Cliford-gardens, Chelsea, was granted a decree nisi, with costs, in the Divorce Court recently on the grounds of the misconduct of Mr. Peter Lockwood Smith-
Dorrien, a company director.

Mr. Smith-Dorrien is a son of the late General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien.

The petition was not defended.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith-Dorrien were married in April, 1931.

Mrs. Smith-Dorrien's case was that, after a year, she and her husband had disagreements and eventually he admitted infidelity.

In 1933, she returned to her parents. Last November her husband stayed with a woman at a Brighton hotel.

Evidence was given by Mrs.
Smith-Dorrien and a chamber-maid from the hotel.

COLLEGE HOLIDAY

The all-important job of picking ideal mates from a host of handsome young college students is placed in the hands of no less competent a person than Gracie Allen, screenland's most famous nitwit, in "College Holiday", the all-star comedy which comes to the Oriental Theatre to-morrow, Monday and Tuesday.

It seems that Gracie has an instinct and to test it, Mary Boland, a crackpot faddist, and Etienne Orlado, who plays the role of her father, take over the fashionable but bankrupt hotel where Jack Benny's boss, Jack, doesn't like the idea any too much, but he has to get the hotel out of the red.

PARK AVENUE
LOGGER

Lovers of thrilling outdoor drama, sprinkled with comedy and romance, will welcome the current George O'Brien adventure picture, "Park Avenue Logger", a George A. Hirlman Production for RKO Radio release, which opens at the Alhambra Theatre to-morrow.

Grammed from start to finish with exciting action, the new vehicle offers O'Brien a role in which

WOMAN

The awakening of a powerful industrialist to the fact that he is entirely wrong in his evaluation of women is the basis of "John Meade's Woman", a powerful love story with Edward Arnold and Francine Larrimore, which opens at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow.

Arnold, as John Meade, the industrialist, revels in the notion that all women have their price. He discovers that his fiancée, played by beautiful Gail Patrick, is unfaithful to him and in order to humiliate her he marries Miss Larrimore, a poor country girl trying to make a go of it in the big city, the day before he was to marry Miss Patrick.

Miss Larrimore loves him but when she discovers that he has used her merely as a pawn in his game, her love turns to hate.

his virile personality is seen at its best.

The story is laid in the giant timber country of the Northwest where O'Brien is seen as a newcomer in the logging business, but whose excellent physical condition and sledge-hammer fists soon command respect among the hardy lumberjacks.

AFTER THE THIN MAN

"After The Thin Man" starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, opens at the King's Theatre to-day, a sensational sequel to "The Thin Man", produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in response to remarkably public demand for another mystery by Dashiell Hammett.

Powell and Miss Loy excel their stellar performance in the original and the story is even more intriguing. A first rate supporting cast includes James Stewart, Elissa Landi, Joseph Calleia, Jessie Ralph and Asta, the smart little wire-haired terrier that played such a clever role in "The Thin Man".

NANCY STEELE IS MISSING

The screen's most intense and searching character actor, Peter Lorre, enacts the most telling portrayal of his career as Professor Sturm in Twentieth Century-Fox's compelling screen drama, "Nancy Steele Is Missing", showing at the Queen's Theatre today.

The conflict between McLaughlin, who tries to restore the lost Nancy Steele to her father, and Lorre, who would substitute a false claimant of his own, builds to a tense, dramatic climax, paying the way for a powerfully emotional conclusion in which McLaughlin redeems himself for the crime of twenty years before.

June Lang and Robert Kent are featured in the supporting cast, which includes Shirley Deane, John Carradine, Jane Darwell and Frank Conroy.

WE HAVE OUR MOMENTS

Sally Eilers and James Dunn have returned to the screen with a picture that is a fine prescription for the relief of faded spirits. Their new vehicle, Universal's "We Have Our Moments", which has its run at the Alhambra Theatre to-day, is gay, stimulating comedy drama.

The story is about a school teacher who tires of her small town surroundings and goes on a lark to Europe. Aboard ship she becomes the unwitting catnap for a band of dinner-jacketed crooks and gets into serious complications with the law. Around this plot has been woven a picture of sparkle and charm. Emphasis has been placed on the modern treatment of lightness, artfully handled by Director Alfred Werker.

GIVE ME YOUR HEART

"Give Me Your Heart", a poignant screen drama based on the famous stage play by Jay Mallory, "Sweet Aloes", has been booked as the feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre to-day, with glamorous Kay Francis in the stellar role.

The picture, a Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros., which is said to give Miss Francis the finest dramatic opportunity of her career, presents her as an ultra modern young Englishwoman who seeks happiness in glorious surroundings in London, New York and Italy.

The plot is daring, the situations novel in the extreme, but most striking of all is the treatment which is frank and brilliant, but clean and in good taste.

LINDBERGH'S THIRD BABY

Visitors To Clinic

The report that a son was born to Mrs. Lindbergh, wife of Col. Lindbergh, the airman, on Coronation night, was confirmed on May 25.

It is understood that Mrs. Lindbergh and the baby are in the London Clinic, Devonshire-place, W. It is stated that Mrs. Lindbergh has registered under the name of Mrs. Charles. Col. Lindbergh's Christian name is Charles.

Mrs. Bingham, wife of the United States Ambassador in London, called at the clinic yesterday. Another visitor was Miss Overman, of the United States Embassy. Col. Lindbergh has paid frequent visits to the clinic in the last fortnight.

It was reported that a new perambulator had been delivered at the Lindberghs' home, Long Barn, Sevenoaks Weald, Kent.

The Lindberghs returned only last month from a nine weeks' survey tour by plane. They had flown as far as India. Shortly after their return they left their Kent home for an unknown destination.

After the tragedy of the "Lindbergh Baby Case" in 1932, when their baby boy Charles was kidnapped and murdered, the couple have led a life of seclusion. They came to England in 1935 with their son Jon, who is now nearly five, to avoid publicity.

WOMAN WINS NEWDIGATE

Poem Composed In Hospital

Oxford's most coveted award, Sir Roger Newdigate's prize for English verse, has this year been won by Miss Margaret Stanley-Wrench, of Somerville College, writes a "Home" correspondent.

She is the first woman to win the prize since 1930. A woman undergraduate won the prize for the three years preceding 1930.

Miss Stanley-Wrench, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mollie Stanley-Wrench, the author, is in her second year at Somerville. Last November, soon after she decided to enter for the prize, she was taken ill and spent some time in Radcliffe Infirmary. It was while she was convalescing that she sketched out her poem roughly.

The subject of the poem this year was "The Man in the Moon". Miss Stanley-Wrench said to me: "I did not go out and study the moon at nights to write my poem. It deals largely with folk-lore, and legends concerning the 'Man in the Moon'. I have always been interested in folk-lore. It is not such a dry subject as some which have been set in previous years."

The poem is written in blank verse and in its introduction deals with the moon's influence on fertility. Miss Stanley-Wrench paints a vivid picture of wild life and of a shepherd tending his lambing fold at night.

King George To Make Masonic History

The King is to attend an Especial Grand Lodge of the United Grand Lodge of England at the Albert Hall, at six p.m., on Wednesday, June 30, to be invested as Past Grand Master, states a correspondent in the "Daily Telegraph".

The investiture will be made by the Grand Master, the Duke of Connaught.

It will be the first occasion on which the Sovereign has been present at a Masonic meeting.

The King's acceptance of the rank of Past Grand Master was announced in March by the Earl of Harewood, Pro Grand Master.

His Majesty, when Duke of York, was Senior Grand Warden of England in 1923 and Provincial Grand Master, for Middlesex, from 1924 until his accession, and has always taken an active interest in Freemasonry.

FIVE DISTINGUISHED PREDECESSORS

The title of Past Grand Master has, in the 200 years' history of Freemasonry in England, been conferred upon only five distinguished personages:

King Edward VII. and King Edward VIII. before they acceded to the Throne.

The Duke of Connaught.

King Oscar II. of Sweden, and The Crown Prince of Denmark, afterwards King Frederick VII.

Like the Duke of Connaught, King Edward VII. afterwards became Grand Master. He ceased to be an active member of the Craft, when he became Sovereign.

"WE WISH YOU HAPPINESS"

Scots Ex-Soldiers Write To Duke

Members of the Bellshill (Lanarkshire) ex-Service men's Club, who celebrated the Duke of Windsor's marriage with a social function, have sent him a letter which stated:—

"We, the ex-Service men of Bellshill, send you our good-wishes on the occasion of your forthcoming marriage, and we wish you every happiness."

The letter is signed, "From your old comrades, the Bellshill Ex-Service Men's Club."

The club was opened in April, 1933, by the Duke of Windsor (then Prince of Wales) when he visited Bellshill during his Scottish tour.

He signed the club membership book, and was the first man to become a member. At that time he was accompanied by Lord Weir and Sir James Knox.

DRAGON BOAT PRACTICE

A certain amount of excitement was caused on the 9.30 a.m. ferry yesterday when the passengers saw one of the Chinese Dragon boats, practising for the races which will be held on Sunday at North Point and Aberdeen.

The boat which was seen yesterday morning, was a very long one, and at the stern of the boat there was a coxswain, beating time with a drum, while his ten oarsmen were rowing according to his beats.

At the head of the boat there was a large head of a dragon, which was done in gold, and looked very picturesque.

Prevent NIGHTCHILL Dangers

YOU are inviting trouble if you go out into the chilly night air without your Peps. The risk of catching a cold or chill which might turn to pleurisy or pneumonia is far too great. So, when you stay late with friends and have to return home in the treacherous night air, be sure to suck Peps antiseptic breatheable tablets. Peps give off rich medicinal vapours which not only overcome infectious germs, but, by their warming and invigorating action, provide valuable protection for throat, chest and lungs. Try them!

To preserve the concentrated essence which Peps contain every tablet is wrapped in silver paper. They are packed in sealed glass bottles, along with full printed directions in English, Japanese, and any medicine dealer.

KING BORIS RECEIVES VON NEURATH

Bulgarian Decoration For German Minister

Berlin, June 10. Baron von Neurath, the German Foreign Minister, was received this morning at Sofia by King Boris of Bulgaria. The audience lasted about 90 minutes, during which the King conferred upon the German Minister the Grand Cross (1st class) of the Alexander Order. At a Press reception in the evening Baron von Neurath read a communique stating that at his conferences with the Bulgarian Prime Minister, foreign political problems which were important for European peace were discussed with full accord, and that the views established on both sides will strengthen Bulgarian-German friendship. At these conferences it had also been agreed to strengthen and extend Bulgarian-German cultural and economic co-operation.—Reuter.

DR. KUNG IN BERLIN

Secretary Of State Entertains

Berlin, June 10. Continuing the extensive programme of welcome for Dr. H. H. Kung and the other members of the Chinese delegation to Berlin, a reception took place at the Foreign Office yesterday, when Secretary of State von Mackensen and Frau von Mackensen acted as hosts on behalf of Baron von Neurath, who is at present visiting the South-east European capitals. The reception was followed by a luncheon in the Hotel Adlon for the members of the Chinese delegation, the Chinese Embassy and all German Ministers, Consul-General Hermann Kriebel of Shanghai, who is at present in Berlin, also being present. This morning Dr. Kung once more visited the Reichsbank to continue conversations on economic questions with Dr. Schacht, German Minister of Economics. In view of the fact that economic questions in Germany and China have many points of similarity, it is stated that these conversations are carried out in friendliness and sincerity, and will have a favourable influence on the development of Sino-German relations.—Transocean News Service.

AMBASSADOR'S DINNER

Berlin, June 10. H. E. Dr. Chen Tien Fang, Chinese Ambassador to Berlin, gave a dinner in honour of Dr. H. H. Kung at his home to-night. Those present on the Chinese side included the Minister of Navy, Admiral Chen Chao Kwan, General Wang, Lt. General Kwel, Rear-Admiral Lin, Secretary P. C. Chang of the Executive Yuan.

NON-INTERVENTION NAVAL CONTROL SCHEME

London, June 10. The Foreign Secretary gave interviews in the course of the day to each of the Ambassadors of the other three powers co-operating in the patrol work under the Non-Intervention Naval Control Scheme. These conversations were preparatory to a joint meeting with Mons. Corbin, Herr von Ribbentrop and Count Grandi which will take place to-morrow for the purpose of beginning the discussion of the formula in connection with the proposals for guarantees which have been accepted in principle by the French, German and Italian governments.

OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK
The exact procedure to be followed in giving effect to the proposals has yet to be settled, but a successful issue from the difficulties arising from the Deutschland and other incidents is now confidently anticipated, and it is hoped that Germany and Italy will shortly resume their places on the international committee. As to the proposals aiming at improving the working of the Naval Control Scheme itself, the view of the British Government is that they are not the exclusive concern of the four Powers. As the Foreign Secretary said in a House of Commons answer yesterday, the proposals involving modifications of the scheme of observation itself would be a matter for consideration by the Non-Intervention Committee.

CLOSER LIASON
The chief pre-occupation of recent weeks has been the solution of the difficulties arising from attacks on patrol ships so that the position could be restored and the British Government has not, therefore, found occasion to take a definite line regarding the amendments to the scheme which have been ventilated in several quarters and notably in France. It is believed, however, that Britain would regard favourably the proposal for the presence on patrol ships of observers of a different nationality from the navy to which the ships belonged, if appointed by the Non-Intervention Committee for the purpose of closer liaison within the control forces.—British Wireless.

No Licence For Radio Set

Wireless Technician A. E. E. Jefferies appeared as complainant at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday when A. L. Sullivan, residing at No. 2c, Luna Building, Kowloon, was summoned before Mr. E. Himsforth with the possession of a wireless set without a licence.

Mr. Jefferies said that he visited the premises on May 27, and found there was a wireless set. Defendant was out during his visit and he left a note requesting him to furnish details of the set.

Defendant pleaded guilty to the offence through a letter delivered to his Worship by a representative, stating that he only had the set tried out and had overlooked the necessity of obtaining a licence at the moment.

His Worship said that $40 was the usual fine for an offence of this nature, but in view of the circumstances he reduced the fine to $25.

MURDERER HANGED

Chiu Pays Supreme Penalty

Chiu Yuk-fat, aged 24, condemned to die at the April Sessions for the murder of Cheung Yuk-ching, a shopkeeper's concubine, paid the extreme penalty by hanging at the Victoria Gaol in the early hours of yesterday morning. It was learned he went to the gallows calmly.

Chiu, who was formerly employed as a draughtsman by the Public Works Department, was found guilty of the murder of Cheung Yuk-ching, allegedly with the help of To Wai-man, who has not been arrested, in a vacant flat at 323 Reclamation Street on February 28, while in an attempt to recover certain false documents from her. The two were said to have attempted to dispose of the body by burning it with charcoal.

CORONER'S INQUEST

At 12.45 p.m. yesterday an inquest into the death of Chiu was conducted by Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy. After hearing the evidence, a verdict of death due to judicial hanging was returned by the following jury: Messrs. D.C.S. Alves (Foreman), Tong Sik-ming and Harry Wong.

Chief Warder, H. Barrett testified that deceased, condemned prisoner No. 623, was, at the April Sessions this year, sentenced to death for murder. On May 26 the sentence was confirmed, and he was executed, according to law, at 5.05 yesterday morning.

Dr. G. I. Shaw, medical officer in charge of Hong Kong Prison, said deceased was pronounced dead at 5.35 a.m. Death was due to dislocation of the cerebral vertebrae and rupture of the spinal cord, caused by judicial hanging.

Dr. Shaw added that he believed death was instantaneous. Deceased was pronounced dead half an hour later because the law required that the body should not be brought down until after that time.

Shortly before the inquest, the body was taken by Chiu's family to Kai Lung Wan cemetery for burial. Chiu's wife and child awaited at the prison gates.

H.K. Sanatorium Has Memorable Day

This is the first occasion in which we have graduates in midwifery. The Training School for Midwives is only a recent addition to the Nurses' Training School.

YOUNG INSTITUTION

Including to-day's graduating class, the total number of graduates since the establishment of this Training School is 25. The reason why there are so few graduates up to the present is, because the Hospital is a comparatively young institution, being 15 years of age. Its Training School for nurses is still younger by five years.

You may be interested to know that when this Hospital was founded in 1922, under the name of the Yeung Wo Nursing Home, we had only 28 beds. But we are glad to say that, after 15 years of struggle and development, the total number of beds has increased to 106. On the other hand, when the Nurses' Training School was established in 1927, we had only 3 pupils enrolled, whereas to-day, the total number in training is 30.

PRIDE FOR GRADUATES

It is only fair for me to say that the graduates to-day are deserving of every praise. Not only have they to put in a minimum of 4 years of hard training, but they have also to pass a number of rigid examinations conducted by this Training School, as well as the Government Nursing and Midwife Boards.

THANKS EXPRESSED

Before I conclude, I wish to tender a word of thanks on behalf of my fellow Directors, to the teaching staff, apart from the Superintendent, the House Surgeon and the Sister-tutors, I wish to take this opportunity to thank particularly Dr. W. K. Fok, Dr. Chai Wai Cheung, Dr. Li Shu Pui and Dr. T. C. Wong for their untiring interest in conducting the lectures during the past years.

Last but not the least, I wish to pay a tribute to the person who is largely responsible for making the Training School what it is to-day, and for the wonderful inspiration, fine example and self devotion, which she so unstintingly gives to this Hospital and its Training School. I refer, of course, to our Matron, Miss Noreen Lum. (Applause).

THE GRADUATES

Then followed the presentation of certificates by Mrs. North and the presentation of School badges by Miss Noreen Lum to the following graduates:

Midwifery:—Soo Wai Lin, Kwong Big Fong, Mak Chai Hing, Leung Yuk Ha, Pau Sui Ping, Tam Yuk Yee.

In absentia:—Alice Young, Seen Shuk Yung.

Nursing and Midwifery:—Elsie Cheng, Chan Wai Man, Wong Nga Han, Shung Wai Man.

Nursing only:—Maggie Fung, Laura Ho, Wong Lai Wah, Stella Ng.

PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN

Miss Tsui Fu Yung presented Mrs. North with a bouquet of flowers, on behalf of the Board of Directors.

The ceremony concluded with the taking of a group photograph.

THOSE PRESENT

Those present at yesterday's function included:—Hon. Dr. and Mrs. Li Shu Fan, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. C. North, Miss North, Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall and Miss Doris Kotewall, Hon. Mr. T. N. Chai, Dr. D. J. Valentine, Dr. and Mrs. Li Shu Pui, Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Fok, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Wong, Professor and Mrs. W. I. Gerrard, Professor W. C. W. Nixon, Dr. J. E. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. de Martin, General Chan Ki Yau, Mr. A. Morris, Dr. and Mrs. Ma Luk, Li Tse Fong, Miss N. Lum, Miss Lulu Wong Ying, Mr. and Mrs. F. Stafford Smith, and many others.

sage from an elementary to a secondary school. For the promising child the ladder thus begins to be climbed in grim earnest at an age that is less than twelve. But if this report is followed the process will be eased by the elimination of homework.

There is no reason why it should not be; the guiding clue is in a reference to a type of examination which "tests intelligence rather than attainments." Such a test should be quite good enough to decide whether a child of twelve is ready for secondary education.

NAVY'S FOREIGN SERVICE

Allocation For Men's Duties

To counteract misunderstanding in the Fleet as to the drafting of personnel, the Admiralty recently issued in Fleet Orders a detailed explanation of the procedure followed in allocating men for home and foreign duty.

"Their Lordships have been impressed with the large amount of misunderstanding which appears to exist in the Fleet to-day on the subject of the drafting of personnel," it is stated.

"The ships of the Fleet are distributed over the world in accordance with the strategic requirements of the Empire. The personnel required to man the ships and establishments overseas is at the present time approximately 45 per cent. of the total. Thus on the average a rating must spend nearly half his time away from the United Kingdom.

"The other half of his time is divided between home sea service and home (shore) service. The result of this is that for every one commission or equivalent period spent in home sea service two must be spent abroad."

AVERAGE SEQUENCE OF SERVICE

The average sequence of service works out approximately as follows:—Home sea service, home (shore) service, foreign, home (shore) service, foreign, home (shore) service.

It is pointed out that two foreign commissions with a comparatively short spell of home (shore) service in between are inevitable at some time in a man's service. The men work on a roster, and the reasons are given for a man not at the top of the roster occasionally being drafted abroad or to some other service. When a man is on home (shore) service he may be taking some instructional course which prolongs his spell of service. "Such prolongation, which may seem unfair, is inevitable." A man at the top of his roster, but who is near his pension date, may not be drafted to a distant station, and some other rating further down must be selected.

"Even within each roster men may have different special qualifications. When it comes to detailing a ship's company the top man on the roster may not possess the particular attainment required, and it becomes necessary to pass over that man, and possibly one or two more, in search of the correct rating."

"This does not have any great effect on the period spent in home (shore) service, because not only are ships being continually commissioned and recommissioned but there is a constant stream of casual reliefs going to all ships of the Fleet. Thus a man at the top of the roster who is passed over obtains very little advantage from this cause alone, and it will only be a very short time before a billet for which he is suitable requires to be filled."

SUMMER ARMY

"AT HOMES"

Insight Of The Soldier's Life

During the summer soldiers will again entertain the public at "at homes" in barracks and depots throughout the country.

These Army "at homes" have proved popular with the public not only for the entertainment they have provided but also for the opportunities they have afforded for gaining an insight of the soldier's life. Until these "at homes" were instituted few members of the public were aware that all regimental depots possess a museum of interesting exhibits, many of historical importance; or knew how well the soldier of to-day lives.

DIVORCE IN SCOTLAND

Attitude Of The Church

The General Assembly of the Church of Scotland at Edinburgh recently discussed the Church's attitude to divorce, with particular reference to the provisions of Lord Alness's Divorce (Scotland) Bill. The committee which had considered the subject reported that, while not holding marriage to be a sacrament, the Church of Scotland regarded marriage as a divine institution bound up with the most sacred interests and calling for the most watchful care and protection by Church and State alike.

With reference to the Bill now before Parliament, which proposed an extension of the grounds on which divorce should be obtainable, the Committee agreed that, while there might be no objection in principle to such a course, certain provisions of the Bill called for consideration, especially those relating to desertion, lunacy, penal servitude, conviction of crime, and habitual drunkenness. The Committee recommended that an "ad hoc" committee of 15 be appointed to watch over the matter and to make such representations to the promoters of the Bill and to the Government as in their judgment might be called for.

The Very Rev. Dr. P. D. Thomson (Kelvinside), who presented the report, said it was upon broad Christian principles that the whole question of an extension of the grounds of divorce must be judged. If the import of the marriage tie had already been destroyed it was only the spirit of legalism that would perpetuate what had become a mockery and a sham.

Sheriff Campbell Black, K.C., the Procurator of the Church, who seconded, said it was the duty of the Church when occasion arose to bring before the legislature its views.

Lord Salvesen pointed out that the proposed deliverance was non-committal and did not indicate the Assembly's views on the proposals before Parliament. Scotland had only a small representation in Parliament, and in matters of social reform must follow the lead of a Parliament that was predominantly English. It was intolerable that reforms which commended themselves to a whole should be frustrated by a Catholic minority.

The Very Rev. Dr. John White (Glasgow), expressed the hope that Lord Salvesen's amendment approving generally of the proposal to extend the grounds of divorce would be accepted. It did not commit them to details.

Dr. Thomson agreed to incorporate Lord Salvesen's motion on the deliverance. The committee was not asking the Assembly to give approval to the provisions of the Bill as they stood at present.

The deliverance was then approved, with the proviso that the "ad hoc" committee consist of 21 members.

HONOURING JOHN WESLEY

John Wesley ranks amongst the most distinguished of Old Churchmen. His portrait hangs in the great Hall at Godalming, and there is a tablet to him in the Cloisters leading to the Old Charterhouse Chapel. His religious followers are also to honour the memory of the founder of Methodism in the precincts of the buildings where he spent the years 1714-1720.

After a service in the Chapel attended by the members of the International Methodist Historical Union, the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is Chairman of the Governors, will dedicate a new tablet to Wesley.

It is presented by that prominent Wesleyan, Mr. Edmund Lamplough, who has been a life-long collector of relics of the Wesley brothers.

Mr. Lamplough's regular activities have lain in Lloyd's, of which he became a member in 1882. Nelson is one of his heroes, and the Nelson Museum at Lloyd's is indebted to him for some of its best specimens.

ALIEN FINED

MALAYAN REVIEW

Well Done, Malaya!

The spontaneous way in which the Coronation was celebrated in Malaya, particularly by the humble members of the various communities, was one of the most heartening aspects of the demonstrations of loyalty.

To mention Singapore in particular, lorry loads of Chinese and Malay women and children, all dressed in their best, and wearing broad smiles, poured into Singapore from distant kampongs and villages, all intent on celebrating the crowning of a King whom they have never seen.

It was unfortunate that the rain should have come down in torrents to dampen the ardour of these good people on the second night, but it provided an opportunity for another spontaneous and striking act of goodwill. Shopkeepers all along the route of the procession immediately threw open the doors of their locked premises so as to give shelter to the crowds who were exposed to the rain, being prepared to risk the danger of petty pilfering and damage to stocks in order to accommodate the people who had come out to enjoy themselves on an auspicious occasion.

A mood of praise is also due to the Police for the efficient way they carried out their arduous duties in controlling the crowds and an unprecedented volume of traffic in a spirit of tolerance and patience, and last but not least to those responsible for maintaining the provision of sufficient electrical energy to make Singapore the fairland of lights it has been since the celebrations commenced. It is well to notice and remember all these things in passing and to give credit where credit is due.

Malaya Envied

Ceylon Rotarians recently held a goodwill day celebration, when it was considered something of an innovation to have ladies present. It was the first time in two years that members had been able to take their ladies to a Rotary function.

That Malaya is envied in this and other respects, even by Colombo Rotarians, is evidenced from the following comment of a Ceylon newspaper columnist, who remarks that the spirit of camaraderie among members of the Rotary Club of Colombo "still has ample room for development."

The commentator adds: "They can in this respect—as well as many others, perhaps—take a lesson from their colleagues in Malaya. A friend who has been there and attended Rotarian gatherings for two years tells me that the Tuan Besars there—the equivalent of Messrs. Bossum, Sackem and Co. of Ceylon—mix freely with the less favoured ones, generally leaving no room for newcomers to doubt that they are genuine Rotarians."

Malayan Ruler's Gift

Malayan Rulers in the Federated and Unfederated States alike are noted for the frequency of their practical demonstrations of loyalty to Great Britain. The most recent gesture is a very fine one made by His Highness the Sultan of Kelantan to commemorate the Coronation. His Highness has made available a site for an aerodrome at Kota Bharu, the capital of his State, on the east coast of the Peninsula and has also set aside a sum for its development and maintenance. It is no surprise that the Home Government have received the Sultan's handsome offer with the greatest approval both for its association with the Coronation and for the substantial contribution that it makes towards the extension of air communications in Malaya. This country has still a long way to go in the matter of air development and every contribution which will improve the position is to be welcomed. His Highness's gift is a practical step in that direction and should help materially in bringing about a solution of Malaya's air problems.

Malayan Broadcast

Speaking about broadcasting brings me to the subject of the local radio station, writes a correspondent in the "Malaya Tribune." Chinese generally are of the opinion that the programme includes too little of interest to them—at present they get an average of 40 minutes' Chinese music on five days each week. I think I am expressing the opinion of the Chinese generally when I say that more Chinese music, radio plays, etc., should be included in the programme that is broadcast daily by the Singapore station. That will most certainly have the desired effect of increasing still further the number of Chinese listeners. Think of the number of Chinese in Singapore alone, and the possibility of adding more of them to the number of listeners if only the local station radiates programmes which are, in their opinion, in conformity with their requirements.

Take the case of Hong Kong. That city has some six to seven thousand listeners, and about three quarters of them are Chinese. Why? The reason is not hard to discover, for Hong Kong radiates Chinese music and radio plays for three hours each day.

Usually their Chinese programmes last from 3.30 to 6.30 p.m. and not infrequently this portion of ZBW's broadcast is extended well into the night, i.e. as and when there is an interesting stage play is relayed. What Hong Kong broadcast for their Chinese listeners during a day is about the aggregate of what Singapore listeners get in a week.

It is not for me to pass comments on the programmes of the local station, but I am merely expressing the above opinion from a Chinese point of view in the hope that it will be helpful to the B.M.B.C. in arranging their programmes for the Chinese listeners.

Malayan Scouts Jamboree

The All-Malaya Coronation Jamboree is now in full swing, states a correspondent in the "Times of Malaya." I was at the station to see the local scouts entrain for the camp. Everyone looked eager to go, and their faces registered pleasure when they saw their comrades from the North arrive, all bound for the Jamboree.

It was a truly inspiring sight at the station—several hundred Scouts, looking spry and span in their uniforms with their bright-coloured neckerchiefs.

The scene made me recall the days when I was a Scout and the grand time I enjoyed at a jamboree held in Ipoh some years ago.

However, to come back to my subject, I was certainly glad to see that Perak was able to send so big a contingent. Taping sent the biggest number (38), Ipoh (32), Kuala Kangsar (23), Telok Anson (20), Kampar and Gopeng (17), Batu Gajah (10), Sungai Siput (3) and Parit Buntar (1).

H.H. the Sultan of Perak visited the Jamboree and presented the Aw Boon Haw Cup to the Negri Sembilan Scouts and the Aw Boon Par Cup to the Malacca Scouts.

It was alleged that he hired the cycle from the Fei Lung bicycle shop, at No. 74, Hennessy Road on June 5, and failed to return it having conveyed it to his own use.

HAPSBURG RESTORATION AND GERMANY

ARCHDUKE OTTO

VON NEURATH'S MISSION

German Press Views

Berlin, June 11. The German press discusses the visits in Eastern Europe of the Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath.

The "Voelksischer Beobachter" observes that the aim of all these visits is the consolidation of peace in eastern and central Europe, for such a consolidation is the expression of Germany's policy in the south-eastern part of the European continent.

The paper goes on to stress that not only Yugoslavia has created an atmosphere of friendliness around her which will soon also include Hungary, but that also the relations between Bulgaria and her neighbours has greatly improved of late. Mutual antagonism is slowly developing into mutual co-operation. The paper points out that Bulgaria has experienced nothing but disappointment since opening relations with Soviet Russia. Under these conditions, the paper states, it is only natural that the two countries, Germany and Bulgaria, should be linked by ideological solidarity.

The "Berliner Tageblatt" points to the fact that on June 15 the Czechoslovakian Premier will visit Bucharest, and that the French Air Minister Pierre Cot will be in Budapest at about the same time. It is stated that the French Foreign Minister also intends to visit the Balkan States soon. The paper says that "these sudden activities of the spiritual and financial fathers of a new reconstruction plan for the Danubian Basin shows only too correctly the powerful effects of von Neurath's visits. The uneasy conscience of the fathers of this unnatural scheme is promptly awakened."

QUESTION VIEWED FROM MANY ANGLES

Menace To European Peace

BERLIN, JUNE 11. THE MORE FREQUENT VENTILATION OF THE POSSIBILITY OF RESTORING THE HAPSBURG MONARCHY TO THE THRONE OF AUSTRIA, AN APPARENT INCREASE IN THE ACTIVITY OF AUSTRIAN LEGITIMISTS, HAVE TENDED TO UPSET PUBLIC OPINION IN GERMANY.

There is no doubt that the question came up in the spring in course of the foundation of the Berlin-Rome Axis, and it is often thought to have been the real test of Italo-German collaboration. If any doubt in this connection still existed, it has been dispelled with the recent visit to Rome of Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg. Italy, who some time ago had real interests in the restoration of the Hapsburg Monarchy, has given her aspirations, in keeping with her close connection with Berlin, a new bias.

The fact remains, however, that the question is not by any means dead in European politics, outside the Berlin-Rome sphere. In Germany itself naturally the mere mention causes little popularity. It is evident that one has little love for dynastic questions now, as historic memories are still poignant, when the various dynasties with their conflicting interests led to the mutilation and final decline of the Reich.

The respect and love of the people for such names as Henry the Lion, the Guelph King, for his colonisation in the east of Germany and many others will not be forgotten, it is true, but a reawakening of the past under the sign of dynastic rivalry will be prevented at all costs. It is appreciated that the monarchs of England and Italy symbolise a unified nation, whereas in Germany history teaches that the restoration of dynasties is tantamount to particularism and separatism.

The question of a Hapsburg restoration under the present Pretender, Archduke Otto and his mother, ex-Empress Zita of Bourbon-Parma is apt to revive memories of unpleasant character in connection with the part played by the last Hapsburg, Charles X, during the World War. The charges against him from the German side need no repetition. As to ex-Empress Zita, her name has become synonymous with a world of political meaning. The restoration then of the Hapsburgs is considered in Germany to cause disorder and disunity in a world that is Greater Germany. It is felt that the Hapsburgs, such as history has developed, have interests other than would associate them with an all-German solidarity as was envisaged in the Austro-German Agreement of July 11 last year. It is also maintained that the present Pretender, Otto, who calls himself "Duc de Bar"—only one of the many titles which the Hapsburgs carry in tenure from the Kings of France—pursues quite different ends than those of his ancestors, Rudolf or Maximilian.

As it is further believed in Berlin that the Hapsburg restoration will not only mean a legitimist aspiration on present-day Austria, but finally a federation of all former Crown Lands, it is believed that the restoration would also be a menace to European peace.

EDEN'S MESSAGE TO HIS CONSTITUENTS

London, June 11. In a message to his constituents, the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, after referring to the constant anxiety of the international situation, added: "Even here there are elements of hope and most observers would agree that the international tension in the world to-day is definitely less acute than it was at this time last year. Any relaxation of mission must, however, be used to bring about further improvement. In such an endeavour the influence of the British Commonwealth of Nations is a factor of first importance. Among all tasks that beset us at the outset of the new reign so auspiciously celebrated, none is not worthy of our persistent and unflagging efforts than the promotion of understanding between nations."

Abbey Tomb Of Poet May Be Opened

The tomb of Edmund Spenser, the Elizabethan poet, in Westminster Abbey, may, according to Mr. R. L. Eagle, of Cheam, Surrey, a member of the Bacon Society, be opened when the Coronation fixtures and decorations have been removed, states the "Evening Standard."

"Then," he said, "we may be able to prove that Shakespeare and Bacon were one."

Mr. Eagle thinks there is probably a manuscript in the tomb which will settle the century-old controversy.

"The Dean of Westminster has replied to my request to have the tomb opened," he said. "He is not opposed to the idea, but pointed out that the matter would require consideration and that the Coronation was engaging his attention."

"I shall write to the Dean again, or possibly the Bacon Society may put forward a formal request, when the Abbey is clear and the time seems to be ripe."

Mr. Eagle is anxious to see whether there is in the tomb a manuscript with Shakespeare's signature on it. He considers it a probability.

"When Spenser died," he said, "according to Camden, master of Westminster School at the time, contemporary poets wrote elegies which were placed, with their pens, in the grave. Camden would be in a position to know that."

"If it is found that there is a poem signed 'William Shakespeare' we shall be able to compare it with the handwriting of Bacon, plenty of specimens of which are in existence."

Storm Before Coronation
Tattoo At Aldershot

London, June 11.

The whole of Southern England was last night swept by a violent thunderstorm accompanied by heavy rains and winds which in some places reached a velocity of seventy miles per hour. At one period four separate storms were raging round London and the rain was the heaviest experienced for some months.

Lightning struck high tension cables at Betchingham colliery in Kent and the electric light supply to East Kent was temporarily cut off.

Some buildings were also struck in various places and there was flooding, but no serious personal injuries are reported and generally the material damage was slight.

The storm broke just before the opening of the Coronation Tattoo at Aldershot which was attended by 37,000 people—20,000 more than on the opening night last year. Some of the exercises including cavalry vaulting and physical training were carried out under difficulties. Rehearsals of the Tattoo have been witnessed by 101,000 people.

EFFICIENT GAS
MASKSDistribution Plan
For All Germany

Berlin, June 10.

"People's Gas masks," as approved by the Reichs Air Ministry, will be distributed in Berlin and Hamburg, according to an official announcement made here to-day.

This is to be the first stage of a definite distribution plan worked out for all Germany. These gas-masks are guaranteed safe for all known variations of gas and will be issued in three different types, one for men, one for women and one for children.

Besides—effecting—protection against all types of gas known, these masks will fit exactly the head of the individual person, as experiments with several thousand different head shapes have shown. "The outer hood of the mask is of rubber, and is so shaped that everybody immediately sees just how the mask must be fitted on the head. The reliability of the masks is guaranteed by official supervision exercised at the time of manufacture. The eye-windows permit a wide range of visibility and are made of a material on which moisture will not condense.

The whole mask, with the filter, weighs slightly over half a pound. Anyone not in position to afford the few marks cost price, may get a substantial reduction through the National Socialist Welfare Organisation—

SERVICE FOR PEACE

London, June 10.

The international tension of the world is definitely less acute to-day than this time last year declared Mr. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary in a message to his constituents at Warwick.

But, he added, any relaxation of the tension must be used to bring about further improvement. The influence of the British Commonwealth of nations is a factor of first importance in such an endeavour.

Service for peace will continue to be the constant preoccupation of the Government of Great Britain, concluded Mr. Eden.

OLYMPIC CUP
Hungarian Academy
Wins Award

Warsaw, June 10.

The "Olympic Cup," which is awarded every year for the best physical achievement, was awarded on Thursday by the International Olympic Committee to the Royal Hungarian Academy for Physical Training.

Germany withdrew her candidacy and instead applied for the 1938 cup for the "Strength through Joy" Organisation.

Though the Winter Olympics were assigned to Japan, the International Olympic Committee has asked the Japanese Representative, Count Soyesima to renounce them in favour of Norway. Soyesima, however, declined as Japan has already made extensive preparations. The Committee thereupon decided to assign the Winter and Summer Olympics separately in future.

This alteration of the statutes will be discussed at the next meeting of the Olympic Committee at Cairo in 1938. Important changes for the future Olympic Games have been arranged. Purely social events will no longer take place during, but immediately before or after the actual games. Half-an-hour of the daily programme will be reserved for the conferring of prizes on the winners, in order not to delay the events.

The Committee also turned against the abuse of the word "Olympia." The word should be used for the Olympic Games only. The Committee will meet in 1939 in London, 1940 in Tokyo, 1941 in Belgrade.

GOLFER'S RUSH
OF NO AVAILTrip Across Atlantic
And Disqualification!

Brig-Gen. A. C. Critchley was disqualified in somewhat remarkable circumstances in the British Amateur Golf Championship, which began at Royal St. George's recently.

Disqualification—a rare occurrence in championships—arose through the General being absent when his name was called to drive off.

He was three minutes late. His opponent, Lt.-Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, M.P., a business associate of Gen. Critchley's, was awarded the match.

Gen. Critchley travelled from New York in the liner Normandie, which arrived at Southampton behind its scheduled time. In an attempt to reach the course in time for the championship he engaged a speedboat to take him from the liner to the aerodrome at Southampton. Unfortunately 10 minutes was wasted in finding a pilot.

When the General eventually landed at the R.A.F. aerodrome at Manston, near Ramsgate, he was driven by car to Sandwich, but he was too late.

One of the surprises of the championship was the defeat of Leonard Crawley at the last hole by J. Walker, of Deal. The two favourites, Bobby Locke—the South African youth who is holder of the Amateur and Open titles of the Union—and Cyril Tolley, won their matches comfortably.

BOOM DAYS ON CLYDE

Ship Orders For £30,000,000

Orders booked during the present month have increased to 70 the number of merchant vessels building, or about to be laid down, in Scottish yards. Their total gross tonnage exceeds £10,000. These orders are, of course, quite distinct from the numerous Admiralty contracts which have been placed with Scottish firms. Merchant and naval construction ordered on the Clyde this year alone represents a value of some £30,000,000.

In other parts of the United Kingdom 108 merchant vessels of 888,875 tons are building. Altogether, therefore, current construction amounts to 178 ships with an aggregate of 1,478,000 tons gross.

To these must be added 100 warships, equivalent to not less than 500,000 tons gross. Thus the total new construction in hand in the United Kingdom is but little short of 2,000,000 tons.

Australia was transferred to Caspella, and under the command of Capt. Bennett the 18-ton flying boat set out on her 2,300-mile flight to Southampton at 2.40 a.m. Among the passengers was Adm. Mark Kerr.

Halts for refuelling were made at Athens, Brindisi, Rome and Marseilles, and the flying boat alighted at Southampton at 8.20 p.m.

Berlin, June 10.

The findings of the German Commission of inquiry into the Hindenburg airship disaster have hitherto proved entirely negative.

SOOCHOW COURT TRIAL

Tao-teng, noted author and journalist, and Wang Chao-shih, lawyer and writer.

Troops and police took the utmost precautions to prevent possible disturbances and lined the route to the court.

Hotels in Soochow were crowded hundreds of persons having arrived to watch the trial, admission to which was gained only by special pass.

MILL STRIKE ECHO

Soochow, June 11.

The court room in which the seven cultural leaders were tried this afternoon was packed to capacity limit. They are charged with the offence of jeopardizing the safety of the State by advocating unorthodox political views.

All the prisoners are well shown men in Shanghai, being lawyers, professors and writers. They were arrested in Shanghai some three months ago in connection with strike in the Japanese cotton mills, as strikers received support from the prisoners to the detriment of public order.

COMMON STATUS OF BRITISH SUBJECT

No Change Suggested

London, June 11.

The first report of the Imperial Conference constitutional committee issued to-day deals principally with the question of British nationality. It points out that in no way is it suggested that any change will be made in the existing position regarding the common status of a British subject.

It is pointed out that this term does not mean "subject of Great Britain" but is a long standing term denoting generally all His Majesty's subjects and it is suggested that in the absence of rules for determining the part of a Commonwealth with which any particular person has connection, difficulties arise on such matters as immigration, deportation, etc.

BRITISH COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENTS

Complaint Investigated In China

London, June 11.

In the House of Commons to-day, Lord Cranborne informed Mr. S. S. de Chair (Con. S. W. Norfolk) that he had instructed the Ambassador to report on the situation arising out of photographic reproduction of pirated copies of books published in Britain for sale in China at much lower prices than the legitimate importers have to charge.

On hearing from the Ambassador, said Lord Cranborne, he would consider what further steps are possible to remedy the grievance of British copyright holders.

DRUG TRAFFIC ACCUSATION

Japanese Foreign Office Statement

Tokyo, June 11.

The Japanese Foreign Office made a statement that the Government could not accept the report of the Opium Advisory Committee of the League of Nations regarding the drug traffic in North China until their own report on the situation is studied.

It is stated that a revision of Japanese drug laws is contemplated.

It is added that the statement made by the Opium Advisory Committee is difficult to believe as the Japanese Government has not received any report of alleged large scale drug traffic in the territories under their control.

SIMPSON WRIT WITHDRAWN

London, June 11.

Counsel for Mr. Ernest Simpson has informed the King's Bench Court that a writ for slander against Mrs. Joan Sutherland, wife of Lieut.-Col. A. H. C. Sutherland, is withdrawn.

EUROPEAN MOTORIST IN COURT

Witness added that defendant was then driving at an estimated speed of about 30. He said he had lost sight of defendant as he had to slow down because there were a few pedestrians near the Majestic Theatre.

NO PREVIOUS SUMMONS
Defendant denied he had exceeded the speed limit, and said he could not have been going at more than 20 m.p.h. in the controlled area. He admitted that he had been travelling at a considerable speed to pass a bus. Defendant added that he had been driving since 1930 in the Colony and a considerable period at home and had never been summoned by the authorities.

His Worship remarked that defendant had convicted himself by his own evidence, as he must have driven more than 20 m.p.h. to overtake a bus.

A fine of $10 was imposed.

Dragon Boat Race To-morrow

The queer looking craft approaches the seawall and the crew put a last effort into their blades. Fire-crackers are lit from a few junks moored near shore, to "drive the devils away," for good luck and plenty of good joss. Within a hundred yards, the drummer beats out a long succession of quick beats almost merging into one, long continuous noise! and this denotes that the oarsmen cease. The blades quit dipping into the water and the crew takes a breather. The man at the till steers the boat alongside a junk and his rudder is a long oar such as used by sampans and junks.

The crowd on shore acclaim the picturesque craft as it comes to a standstill.

PRACTICE YESTERDAY
The crews are made up from the various fishing fleets of the Colony. Shaokwan and Aberdeen, two of the most prominent, vie against each other over certain stretches of water, but as preliminaries to the races, the boats pay visits to Causeway Bay, Hung Hom, Kowloon City. Yesterday Hung Hom was visited and the waterfront at Winslow Street was soon crowded, all keen to gaze at these water-gypsy gladiators.

They were treated to the sight of several bursts of speed as the crew approached the shore, turned, skimmed out and returned with enthusiastic bursts of speed. Salvoes of fire crackers rent the air and the beat of the drum grew louder.

The "dragon boat" itself is a quaint craft, made so as to seat two side-by-side and some forty feet in length. It is a low craft, with shallow sides and not unlike a very much over-grown canoe. The crew are dressed in white singlets with half-sleeves, white shorts and white straw helmets, conical shaped and brimless, unlike the wide brimmed hat of the coolie or gardener whose headgear is made to afford maximum shade from the sun.

The banners, multi-hued; white pennant with red and blue edgework, all fluttering in the breeze give a ready means of identification.

The splash of the many oars, the beat of the drum and above all the obvious enjoyment of the run a business as canvas bed makers. They came down to Hong Kong from the country with the necessary capital and opened a shop called the "Shun Wo Cheung" at No. 377, Shanghai Street.

CARPENTER ON MURDER CHARGE

On April 25, deceased arrived in Hong Kong and called on his uncle, Tong Shu-fuk, to look for work. Finally accused and deceased's uncle agreed to employ him at the shop. After working for a considerable period accused complained that deceased's work was not satisfactory and so he was dismissed.

Tong Shu-fuk, in a casual check over the books found that accused had been drawing $15 per month as salary when he was allowed only $9. A quarrel started over this, and eventually they both agreed to dissolve the partnership. The whole business was then taken up by Tong Shu-fuk who offered eighty per cent to accused, for the goods.

STRANGE BEHAVIOUR
Tong Shu-fuk, seeing that he could not possibly pay the balance to accused, decided to get his nephew as partner, so that with this additional money he would pay off accused.

Strange things happened on the night of May 9 when accused, who was still staying in the shop, left the premises several times. This queer behaviour was explained by accused himself who said to a foki that he wanted to kill Tong Shu-fuk. The conversation was repeated to Shu-fuk the next morning by the foki, but was strongly denied by accused.

About 7 p.m. on May 17, a foki Ho Kau, was at the rear of the shop nailing canvas on a bed. He was facing the backyard, and he noticed deceased squatting down on the backyard, sharpening a chisel. On turning round he saw accused holding an axe, in both hands and striking deceased on the head with it. Ho Kau then immediately ran out of the shop calling out "save life." Accused, then dashed out into the street.

Another foki who was near the door at once gave chase and arrested accused not very far away from the shop, and together with an Indian constable took him back to the Police Station.

After further evidence was taken the hearing was adjourned.
